

MAY ASK WILSON TO SHOW FRENCH AND TREATY

PARDON BOARD IN JOLIET TO MEET JOHNSON

Sheriff Not Permitted to See Members,
However.

Members of the State Board of Pardons were present at the Joliet penitentiary yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock, when Sheriff Frank A. Schoenholtz delivered R. E. Johnson, negro, to that institution. As soon as it was learned that Johnson was present in the prison, he was summoned before the board and remained there with them until after the sheriff and his party had received their receipt for the prisoner and had left the grounds. The sheriff was not permitted to go before the board with Johnson, but the prisoner alone was received by them in a room just off the main corridor.

The trip by auto from Dixon to Joliet, together with the news of the commuting of his sentence from death by hanging to life imprisonment, had a very invigorating effect on the negro. The fear that his health was about to be broken down by a severe attack of consumption and that his mind was rapidly failing, apparently was left behind as he walked out of the Lee county jail.

On his arrival at Joliet he informed the sheriff that he had greatly enjoyed the trip overland in automobile and at Aurora he begged the official and other members of the party to stop in that city long enough to purchase a bottle of whiskey for him.

Milder Sentence.
Johnson, who was convicted of the murder of George Bush and sentenced to pay the death penalty, started yesterday to serve a life sentence in the state prison. His sentence is much milder than the one imposed upon Alfonso Lucas, who was not only sentenced to hard labor but to spend 24 hours, once each year, on December 6, in solitary confinement. Lucas was also required to spend the first 24 hours of his term in solitary confinement, another advantage that Johnson has over his accomplice.

After leaving Dixon, Johnson notified the members of the sheriff's party that if he could be granted two weeks' freedom, that he could locate and capture "Curley" Wilson, the third negro, who was implicated in the shooting at Nelson on the night of December 6.

RUNAWAY BROTHERS HALTED AT AMBOY

Rockford, July 24.—Wilbur and Fred Braig, aged respectively 17 and 12 years, residing at 204 South Fourth street, disappeared from their home Monday afternoon and the father reported their absence to the police department. Messages were sent to Duquaine, Ia., and Beloit, Wis., on the theory that they might have gone to visit relatives in one place or the other but without result.

Today word came from Amboy, Ill., that the brothers were in custody there, having been picked up by the authorities as vagabonds. It is thought that another youngster of thirteen years of age by the name of Erickson is also with the Braig brothers, as he disappeared at the same time.

The saxophone will be the principal instrument, but the performers are said to be equally proficient on banjo, cornet, drum and piano." The paper also published a picture of the band, in which the Dixon young man is easily recognized. "His many friends will rejoice in the success he is meeting in the vaudeville world."

CRAWFORD STORE AT NACHUSA WAS ROBBED IN NIGHT

Cigarettes and Clothing Are Greater Part of the Haul.

Edgar Crawford's general store and postoffice at Nachusa was entered last night between 11 p. m. and early morning and looted of a quantity of merchandise by robbers who apparently were novices and who live somewhere in this locality. The value of the goods taken is probably under $100, although it was impossible for Mr. Crawford to make anything like an accurate estimate this morning of the goods taken.

Broke Through Glass.
On arriving at the store this morning Mr. Crawford found the glass in the upper half of the south door to the building broken. In the clothing and groceries departments the floor was littered with shirts and overalls that had been pulled down from the shelves, the robbers evidently having been in search of certain sizes. Boxes of shoes had been pulled down and the thieves had evidently made a mistake in the dark and carried off shoes that were not mates, even in color. One tan shoe and one black shoe were left an 8 1/2 and a 9.

Preferred Variety.
The list of goods stolen contains no money, but, as near as could be ascertained this morning, was composed of overalls, a case of eggs, shirts, shoes, coffee, two Ford locks, canned fruit and cigarettes. The fact that the thieves carried off a case of eggs, but left several dozen new automobile tires, small change in the cash drawer, valuable mail packages, etc., would indicate that they were not professionals.

Spilled the Beans.
A sack containing about a half bushel of navy beans was emptied on the floor and the sack used to carry away canned groceries. A big case of coffee was broken open but only one pound can taken. A box of tea was broken open and left. About 700 Camel cigarettes were stolen but no cigars were taken.

In Other Buildings.
The robbers broke into Ira Curran's implement house across the street and forced the top of Mr. Curran's desk, but took nothing there. They also gained entrance to the unused blacksmith shop on the south side of the C. & N. W. tracks and from there took a wrecking bar from the tool chest owned by Frank Hartzell, who drives a milk truck, and the wrecking bar was used to break into the Crawford store.

Sheriff Notified.
Sheriff Schoenholtz was notified this morning and went immediately to the scene of the raid and is making efforts to find some trace of the thieves, although up to the present there is nothing for the officials to work on.

"It has been stated by one senator," said Mr. Robinson, "that by the treaty Shantung with its forty million inhabitants is wrested from China and presented to Japan. WILSON'S POINTS IGNORED IN PACT,
LENROOT SAYS

Only Six Are Embodied
While Four Clearly Violated.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C., July 24.—Acceptance of the league of nations with reservations to protect independence of American action was advocated in the senate today by Senator Lenroot, republican, Wisconsin. The right to determine domestic questions, to administer the Monroe doctrine, and to decide upon its course in any case arising under article 10, he asserted, should be more fully protected by reservations.

Of President Wilson's fourteen points, the speaker said, only six had been complied with in the treaty, while four had been "clearly violated" and four "not included at all." Among those violated, he mentioned the stipulations relating to open covenants, disarmament and impartial adjustment of colonial claims. He expressed the opinion that the league provisions would not be effective in forcing disarmament.

Republicans Favor League.
"The country ought to know," said Senator Lenroot, "that with very few exceptions the members of this body, irrespective of party, are in favor of a league of nations. And the country ought to know that with very few exceptions the republican members are in favor of the league now proposed, provided reservations are made protecting the rights and interests of the United States."

Must Protect U. S.
"I believe the United States can and should be protected by proper reservations, and with such reservations the league may be of great value in preventing future wars and securing a better understanding between nations."

The articles providing for arbitration and giving the league authority to act in case of any war or threat of war were praised by the senator, who also said he considered the withdrawal article satisfactory. The provision made regarding domestic questions he considered "open to objection" while he thought a reservation should be adopted declaring the Monroe doctrine "unaffected." He also suggested a reservation under which nations could not have the disarmament limitations placed upon them while they were at war.

Attacks Article X.

Regarding article 10, Senator Lenroot said he considered that "neither President Wilson nor the senate has any moral right to obligate the United States to go to war to preserve the territorial integrity of and existing political independence of members of the league." The people should be left free in the future, he said, "to refrain from engaging in war against their will."

U. S. WILL BUILD
SHIPS TO CROSS
OCEAN IN 4 DAYS

U. S. Shipping Board to Construct Two Big Liners at Once.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, July 24.—Two gigantic ocean liners, larger than any ships now afloat and designed to cross the Atlantic in four days, are to be built by the shipping board. They will be 1,000 feet long and of 30 knots speed and will be equipped for use as commerce destroyers in the event of war.

Announcement was made today by the board that plans for the ships had been completed and that work on them would be started in the near future. It is proposed to provide a special terminal for them at Port Pond Bay, Long Island, and it may be that two similar liners will be constructed later.

The ships, which are to be built under the supervision of the navy department, will be 50 feet longer than the famous Leviathan, now the largest ship afloat, and will have a gross tonnage of 55,000. Their draft will be 35 feet, depth 74 feet, beam 102 feet and accommodations will be provided for one thousand saloon passengers, 800 second cabin passengers and 1,200 steerage passengers.

The crew will number 1,000 officers and men and the ships will be of the oil burning type with a cruising radius of 7,000 miles, which will enable them to complete a round trip on the Atlantic without loading fuel overseas. They will be driven by four propellers on which will be thrown the strength of 110,000 horsepower.

In order that the vessel may be converted into commerce destroyers in time of war, gun placements will be built on the decks and the after-deck will be constructed with a view of transforming it into a landing and launching space for seaplanes.

PHONE COMPANY TO REPLACE LINES ON
GALENA AVE. BRIDGE

The Dixon Home Telephone company is preparing to rebuild its lines across the Galena avenue bridge, and it is estimated that the work will cost fully $2,000. It has been found that the excessive vibrations of the bridge have disintegrated the lead sheathings of the three cables which are suspended beneath the floor of the bridge, and as a result when it rains the water soaks into the cables, short circuiting many of the wires and causing the 'phone company a great deal of trouble.

Accordingly it has been decided to replace the three cables beneath the bridge floor with a single large cable, which will be hung from arms erected on the top of the bridge. The new cable will contain 600 pairs of wires and will be of the very best manufactured.

SENATOR LODGE
OFFERS MOTION TO REQUEST IT

Should Be Submitted with Peace Treaty Republicans Say.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, July 24.—A resolution requesting President Wilson to submit to the senate the treaty by which the United States would promise to aid France in the event of an unprovoked attack by Germany was offered in the senate today by Chairman Lodge, of the foreign relations committee. Unanimous consent for its immediate consideration was refused by Senator Robinson, democrat, Arkansas. Senator Lodge offered the measure after a sharp debate during which republican spokesmen declared that the terms of the treaty required that it be submitted to the senate for ratification at the same time as the treaty with Germany.

Should Accompany Treaty.
Inquiring why the treaty with France proposing that the United States aid that country in event of an unprovoked attack by Germany has not been submitted to the senate, Senator Brandegee, republican, Connecticut, read into the record today a magazine article quoting the text of the document as requiring that it be submitted for ratification on "at the same time" as the treaty with Germany.

While the Connecticut senator was reading the article a white house messenger entered with a message from the president.

"Maybe that's the authenticated text of the treaty," said Senator Brandegee. Vice President Marshall examined the notation on the official envelope and then replied:

"I will say to the senator that it is." When Mr. Marshall had opened the envelope, however, he found that instead it was a proposed extension of the British-American waterways convention, first adopted in 1823, and he again interrupted Senator Brandegee to change his announcement.

Taft is Active.
Former President Taft, who has written to several republican senators and leaders suggesting reservations to the peace treaty which might be acceptable to both sides, has opened correspondence on the subject with prominent democratic senators. Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, one of the leading spokesmen for the administration in the senate fight, received a letter today from Mr. Taft.

Charging the president with not submitting information requested by the senate and the foreign relations committee, Senator Brandegee, republican, Connecticut, referred to the senate's seeming inability to get the draft of the American plan for the league of nations.

Senator Brandegee also assailed the president for calling individual senators to the white house for discussion of the treaty.

"Having tried this case before the jury—the senate," said Senator Brandegee, "now he sends for the individual jury men and argues with each one of them. If there is any information the senate ought to have, he ought to come before the senate or at least advise the committee. I think the committee is entitled to this information; the people, too, are entitled to it; entitled to something besides the mere ipse dixit of the president."

Senator Lodge read from Figaro of Paris the text of the treaty, containing a provision that the two treaties be submitted to the American senate simultaneously.

"I cannot but regret that the treaty was not laid before us at the same time as the treaty of Versailles at this agreed agreement required," said he.

Senator Brandegee read a similar text from the London Times of July 4.

Secretary Lansing, who returned to Washington today from Paris, had a long conference with the president at the white house during the forenoon, discussing the situation at the peace conference and other matters.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

By JANE PHELPS.

SANDRA DECIDES TO BE INDISCREET.

CHAPTER XXVII.

Instead of relieving my fears, Mrs. Gray's emphatic remark increased them. Why wouldn't she answer so simply a question as I had asked? All this secrecy was baffling. It added to my unhappiness because of the surety I had that Everett did not love, neither would love me, because he had so passionately cured for Leola.

Of course, I was not unhappy all the time. No girl as young as I was would be. But I had long fits of depression when I wandered about the house disconsolately, wishing that I had some one like Rose to talk to. Even Buster and Toodles would have been joyously received. Then often when Everett was particularly stern I would weep and sob until I was ill. Then he would scold me severely, and perhaps go out and leave me alone for dinner and the evening.

"I have no wish to sit opposite you when you make yourself so unattractive," he would say sarcastically, then leave me. Not once had he taken me in his arms and tried to soothe me, and coax me into to cry. In all the stories I had read that was what husbands did—especially if they had been married only a short time.

I made up my mind I should have to forget my book heroes. Everett was awfully disappointing when I compared him to them. Not in looks. He was as handsome as any hero in a story I ever had read—at least I thought so. But he didn't act a bit like them. He was so matter of fact, so stern at times, and so unyielding. Never once had he given in to me or changed his mind when he made a statement, or said what I should do. Not even in the simplest matter.

Suddenly one day I thought of this I made up my mind that I was because of Leola that he was so stern and so unyielding with me. That she had been allowed her freedom—whatever he meant by that—and had been wilful and did as she wanted to, he had determined that I should do nothing I wanted to, but should bend to his desires in all things.

This thought added to my hatred for Leola. It was bad enough to be "the second Mrs. Graham," to be told that Everett admired red hair and so had married me; that sapphires were worn by that other. But that I was to be refused my liberty; not allowed to have a mind of my own because of her, was unbearable.

"I won't stand it! I'll do things too!" I declared aloud. "I'll be indiscreet too! Maybe then he'll love me like he did her."

The holidays had been hard for me. I had been accustomed to such fun and gaiety at home. A tree for the boys, and all sorts of simple games. The neighbors coming in; and we going to them. The Sunday School entertainment for which we boys and girls worked days before to trim the big tree for the little children, making cornucopias and stinging corn, and incidentally having the time of our lives while doing it. All these simple homey pleasures had taken on a value they never before possessed as the holidays passed in a formal way that first year of my marriage.

Everett had been very kind. My own gift from him had been a lovely diamond wrist watch of exquisite workmanship. He had also given me a large check to buy gifts for the home folks. But we dined alone both Christmas and New Years' day, and a lonely dinner on these days seemed dreadful to me.

Everett had taken me to a play in the evening, but in spite of my determination not to, I cried myself to sleep both nights. I couldn't tell Everett I was crying because we had spent the holidays alone together. But I so longed for father, mother, and the boys. When Everett scolded me I cried all the harder. Then he became real cross with me and said some cruel things about cry babies and women who never were satisfied. At least I thought them cruel.

Mrs. Garry's dinner was to be the second week in January. My dress was lovely, but I looked awfully girlish in it. The modiste had followed Everett's directions very carefully. Hetty and Mrs. Gray admired it immensely when I tried it on for their benefit. And I hoped Hetty was right when she said:

"There won't be none there look like you do, Mrs. Graham. They can't, no matter what they wear; they are too old."

Again Everett took in that hand, some Mrs. Barton. Again he laughed and chatted in so intimate a manner that I commenced to feel jealous of this lovely woman with whom he seemed on such friendly terms. She must have been thirty-eight or forty years old, but next to me was, as she had been at that other dinner, the youngest looking woman at the table—and the loveliest. I would ask Everett to tell me all about her as we drove home. I was having an awfully stupid time and he was so gay. It wasn't fair. Once more I vowed:

"I too will be indiscreet—like Leola. Then he'll love me as he did her." Tomorrow—Sandra Longs To Be Older.

INCENDIARY FIRE BURNS FARM HOME

Fire, believed of incendiary origin, Tuesday afternoon, destroyed the 3-room house on the Jacob Adams farm, two miles east of Pennsylvania Corners, and some of the contents.

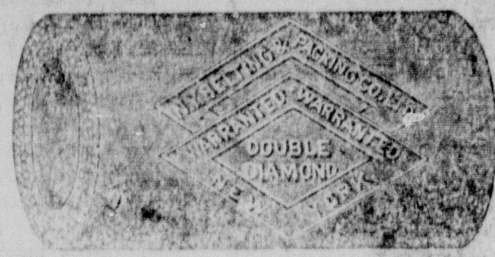

There was a large sum of money in the house before the fire and it is believed it was a case of burglary, with the robber setting fire to the building to destroy all clues. There was no one home when the fire broke out.

Neighbors, in a field nearby, first discovered the roof of the home ablaze. They summoned more help and started to carry the furniture from the lower floor. Nearly all of the contents of the home was saved.

Does the Cost on Your Laundering Worry You?

Husbands, you have labor-saving devices in your work—why not in the home? Why not provide the wife with modern conveniences that will let her get a little more enjoyment out of life?

If you hire the washing done does the cost worry you? Do you know that you can get the best power washer made by paying the same amount or week that you pay for washing and the machine goes right on saving that same amount after it's paid for?

VCS POWER WASHERS answer these two questions more satisfactorily than any other washer. They are built for Engine and for Electric Power, and we have various forms in stock so that we can meet all demands.

Voss Washers have exclusive features for safety and convenience. Sold for cash or on easy payments.

FOR SOLDIERS OF FAMILY—

Descendants of Amasee and Rodie White-Austin made returned heroes of the clan honored guests yesterday at a reunion at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hoffman of Clare, with Miss Lillie Austin, of Rockford, the Hoffmans and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Dennis as sponsors. The guest list included 80 relatives from Wayne, Rockford, West Chicago, Rockville, Dixon, Maywood, Beloit, Wis., Newman's Grove, Neb., Oregon, Sycamore, Waukegan, Chicago, DeKalb and nearby places. Presence of the ten lads who represented the family in the world war was not possible, many of them residing at a distance, but four of the lads, Corporal Earl Little, of Rockford, with the Fifth division, motor truck supply train, Corporal Roy Vandeventer, of Sterling, with the 13th Engineers, Sergeant (first class) Charles Austin, of Sycamore, of the 153rd aero squadron and Private Floyd J. Caspers, of Rockville, with Fifth Heavy Mobile Ordnance Repair shop, were there to enjoy the festivities. Dinner was served in the dining and living rooms of the Hoffman residence. Streamers of red, white and blue hung from the chandeliers and the table appointments were in the national colors, nut cups, and other details carrying out the color scheme. Surprise to the boys was the gift of money to them from Miss Austin which they found at their places. A delicious dinner was served. During the afternoon after pictures had been taken of the various groups and crowds, a program was given on the lawn, Augustus Caspers, of Rockville, presiding. Mr. Caspers and Mrs. R. G. Dennis gave splendid talks and the guests of honor related some of their experiences. Musical numbers, both vocal and instrumental, were given during the day which added to the pleasure for the guests. The family is proud of the fact that of the ten who have been in service, everyone was a volunteer, keeping up the record of the clan in previous wars.

CENTENARY IN MOVIES—

That David W. Griffith offers to preserve the Methodist centenary celebration in celluloid so that this great exposition at Columbus, Ohio, might be shown to the world for years to come is one of the delightful surprises of this great missionary gathering which several Dixon people have attended. Mr. Griffith made his offer to photograph the exposition and to prepare the films for motion pictures exhibition free of all cost as a memorial to his mother, who was a Methodist. Mr. Griffith went to Columbus a few weeks before the opening with Dr. S. Earl Taylor, director general of the celebration, and rode through the grounds inspecting the Coliseum where the pageant, "The Wayfarer," is staged. He found great motion picture possibilities there and said he would turn his best photographic talent to the big task of preserving this wonderful story. After these pictures have been shown here it is planned to take them overseas to India, China and Japan.

SOLDIERS FINDING JOBS.

Generally healthy conditions in this country in regard to employment for labor are shown in the latest review of trade conditions by the federal reserve board.

Apprehension that the return of the soldiers from overseas would glut the labor and employment market is now found to have been groundless and unnecessary. All the talk of women keeping men's jobs and of a surplus of idle men had not much foundation in fact.
Instead of a great surplus of labor, we still have need for additional labor.

And one of the most gratifying statements contained in the reserve board's statement is that the returning soldiers are being absorbed promptly into civilian industry.

Continued prosperity of the country, and the expansion of business which has taken place, could not have been foreseen six months ago, and conditions are probably better than the majority expected. This condition is responsible in no small measure for the ease with which soldiers coming home have been absorbed into industry.

On the whole, a mighty fine spirit has been shown by American business men, who have shown their patriotism by holding or making jobs for returning men, as well as in other ways they demonstrated their spirit during the war.
There need be little fear that the remaining soldiers to be demobilized will not be provided with jobs.

SOUTH DAKOTA FOR ENGLISH SPEAKING.

South Dakota is right after non-English speaking aliens. A bill has been passed by the legislature providing for the compulsory education of all persons between the ages of 16 and 21, inclusive, who do not speak, read and write the English language, until they have reached the educational status equivalent to the fifth grade in the public schools.

Evening classes are to be established and maintained, the state sheriff is transient officer. Pupils for whom this legislation is intended must attend school for at least eight hours a week during the entire time that such schools are in session within five miles of their homes.

A fine is to be inflicted for failure to comply with the law. Any person above 21 years and under 59 may attend the classes free of charge if he can not read, speak or write English.

It is coming to be conceded that a successful Americanization policy will have to be based on compulsion, and this law provides for that. If the instruction given includes such presentation of America and American opportunities and ideals as will rouse the desire for Americanization in the hearts of the pupils, this law will go a long way toward offsetting the work of the anarchistic propagandist.

Healo is a wonderful remedy for aching tired feet—used by thousands. Men and women who are on their feet a great deal will marvel at results.

The first case of intoxication which

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

WAKE UP, DIXON!

Editor—It has been published that our Dixon road bridge is unsafe. Are we, the people of Dixon, going to allow another calamity like that of years ago? On Saturday this week the Assembly opens, bringing extra traffic on the bridge. Wake up, Dixon, before it is too late! If measures are being taken to make the bridge safe they have not been published. Our bridge, I think, is more important than all the road building.

GETTING THE RIGHT CLOTHES

If it is so easy nowadays for a man to get the right clothes that it sometimes seems strange that so many men get the wrong ones. And the worst of it is that the man who does get the wrong clothes thinks they're all right—of course he does; no man ever bought the wrong thing deliberately, knowing it to be wrong.

Copyright 1919 Hart Schaffner & Marx

It all depends, we suppose, on what "right-clothes" means. We can tell you some of the things it means. Right-clothes are made of all-wool fabrics—good all-wool fabrics; there's more than one kind of all-wool; some of the worst trash in the market is "all-wool." Right-clothes are well tailored; and that means so much more than sewing seams together that it's a long story to tell what it does mean. Right-clothes have right style; and right style is a good deal more than just "the looks of the suit." And fit, of course; but you're a pretty good judge of fit yourself.

Now you know perfectly well that good quality in anything costs more than poor quality. You know that right-clothes all wool fabrics, can't be put into a very cheap suit; that right-clothes tailoring actually costs more than the price of your cheap suit; that "style" has to have back of it good fabrics and good tailoring if it's to keep on looking stylish; that fit, without these other things doesn't last.

The question is—How can a man know right clothes beforehand? Because it's pretty expensive buying them and then finding out that they're wrong.

The answer to that question is in knowing who made the clothes, not who sells them to you. When you see HART SCHAFFNER & MARX label in a suit or overcoat, you know all there is to know about them—fabrics, tailoring, style—Right; you know it.

All we have to do as sellers is to say; If you're not entirely satisfied, get your money back.

It's good business to buy these high grade clothes; plenty of them here—$35, $40, $45, $50.

Diamond Tires kept on giving such masterly service—kept it up with such unwavering consistency—that they automatically lifted themselves out of the old adjustment class.

Think of it—formerly on Fabrics the adjustment was 3,500 miles—now 6,000 miles; on Cords, 5,000 miles—now 8,000 miles.

If a good tire which was the favorite of hundreds of thousands of car owners, proved itself so much better that we can safely—very safely—raise the adjustment bases more than 40%, it is a sure-mileage tire for you to use.

Now is the time to put on Diamonds all 'round.

The new adjustment bases also apply on all Diamonds now in use or in the hands of dealers.

FRANKLIN GROVE AFFAIRS

(By J. C. COOK.)

NEW FARM HOUSES.

Ramsdell.

The new house on the Robert Ramsdell farm is now nearly completed. The real artists with the board and trowel—John Howard, Herman Blank from Franklin and Charley Tuck of Ashton—are now putting on the finishing touches. The house is two-story and basement. The lower floor has two good-sized rooms, dining room, kitchen and pantry. The second floor has four fine sleeping rooms and a bath. When completed with all appointments this will be a modern farm home.

Graves.

The new house on the Louis R. Graves farm is about completed. This is situated nearly across the road from the many other farm buildings owned by Mr. Graves, including two big barns and house, occupied by Henry Cupp who is associated with Mr. Graves in farm operations. The new house is commodious and well arranged, having eight rooms and sleeping porch. Owing to delay in shipments of building materials Mr. Graves is now waiting the arrival of some fixtures, including electric pumps which are necessary to entirely finishing the work.

The Harvest Home.

On the Jesse Dysart farm Tuesday afternoon about 4 o'clock the harvesters having cut the last swath for this season was being "demobilized" and made ready for its place in the machine sheds where it will remain until the next harvest time. It had just come in from the field and was dusty and rusty also, in fact it was about covered with rust owing to the rust on the wheat, which is a common condition in most of the wheat fields in this part of the country this year. A fine large barn has recently been erected on the Jesse Dysart farm and is now finished with the exception of some of the siding. After a residence in town for a year or more, Mr. Dysart decided that the farm life has far more attractions than town in every respect, especially from a financial standpoint.

A Great Day.

Tuesday was the banner day of chautauqua in Franklin Grove. The attendance was good and everybody highly delighted with the entertainment. The Chenettes' Military band is universally spoken of as "the best band we ever heard." The band gave the entire program Tuesday, with the exception of the afternoon when a part of the time was taken up by Mrs. Annie Dickie Oleson who had for her subject "The Larger Patriotism," and to say that she pleased her audience would be stating it in the mildest terms. Mrs. Oleson is considered one of the most gifted speakers on the chautauqua course in this country.

DOES NOT FORGET THE FARM

Henry Herwig who recently retired from farm life and is now located in a comfortable home in Franklin Grove, still retains an interest in all the affairs of country life, and divides much of his time visiting and assisting on the farms of his two sons, Wesley and Harry, both south of town. Mr. Herwig was five years of age when his parents emigrated to this country and settled on the farm which is now the old homestead now occupied by Harry Herwig. This has been the home of the Herwig family for nearly sixty years. Mr. and Mrs. Herwig are fortunate in having their six children all settled near them in the same county. Edward the oldest, lives in Bradford township, Wesley A. in China township, Harry R. on the old home place, Mrs. Anna Pankhurst and Mrs. Chas. Ramsdell in China all on separate farms but near in the same neighborhood.

A PIONEER

In the list of the many daily readers of the Dixon Evening Telegraph in and around Franklin Grove may be found the name of Samuel E. Wolfe who has been a reader of the Telegraph for many years. Mr. Wolfe is a native of Pennsylvania, came to Illinois in 1854 and after a short stay in Ogle county settled on a farm in Carroll county near Lanark where he remained for 22 years. He then removed to a farm near Ashton. This was his home for about 18 years when he removed to Franklin Grove where he has since resided. The children now living and in Mr. Wolfe's family are Sarah, at home; J. E. Wolfe, Franklin Grove; Mrs. Nettie (Wolfe) Ainsworth, Monticello, Ia.; Mrs. Elsie (Wolfe) Oberholzer and Mrs. Catherine (Wolfe) Jobe, both reside in California. Mrs. Wolfe died in September 1915. Mr. Wolfe who for many years was a tireless worker having borne the heat and burden of the day; now in the eventide of life quietly enjoying the results of his labors.

NORTH OF TOWN

Virgil R. Keith, son of Roscoe Keith, living on the old homestead 3 miles north of Franklin Grove, considers the Dixon Evening Telegraph a home necessity, and its daily news service, both home and abroad, is highly appreciated in the Keith home. Mr. Keith follows a general line of farming and is one of the progressive and prosperous farmers in Lee county.

THE VALLEY OF GOLD.

In a drive over the country this season of the year one is impressed with the beauty, the grandeur, the fertility and richness and wonderful resources of farm and country. Fields of golden grains and waving corn, meadows brown with harvest, "cattle on a thousand hills." Over it all and during the long summer days, the July sun sheds its heat, at night, under the harvest moon the crickets chirp while the corn tassels waving in the breeze whisper a soft refrain: Wealth, wealth, golden wealth; we bring you food and the bloom of health; The yellow corn; The yellow gold, this is the harvest of riches untold. While the smaller grains are not yielding as much as usual the corn and other crops give every promise of a most bountiful crop.

FAMO

A Builder of Health

Aside from the essential compounds necessary to life that are present in Schlitz Famo—protein and carbohydrates—the organic acids, aromatic compounds of the hop content and carbonic acid gas, exert a very beneficial action.

They have a specific antiseptic property to suppress the development of harmful bacteria that may be lodged in the intestinal tract.

They stimulate—refresh—and assist digestion by replacing to a certain extent the hydrochloric acid of the stomach—cause it to flow more freely—increasing the secretion of the digestive juices.

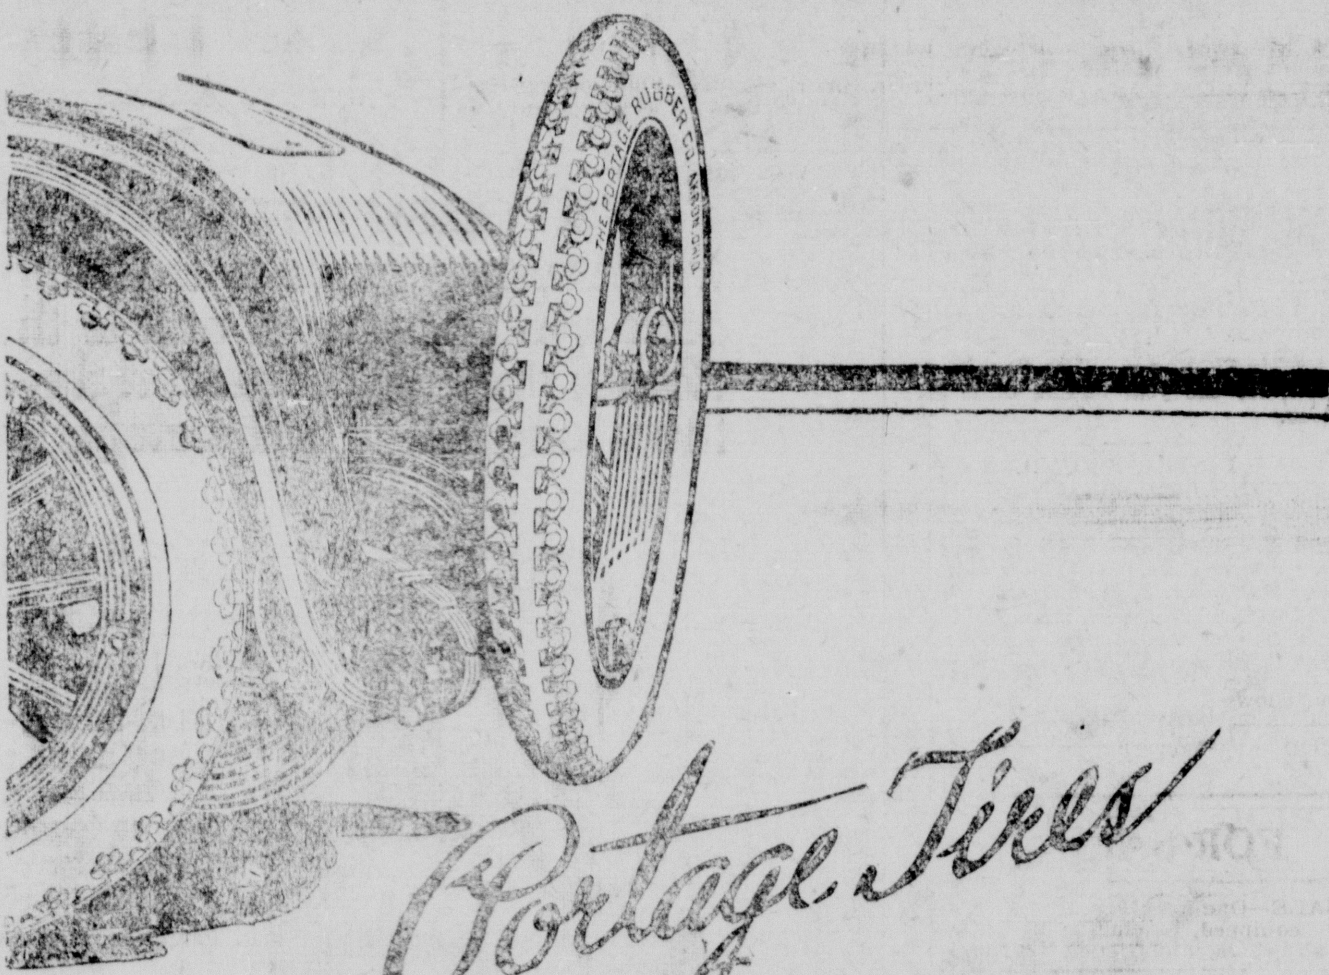

Drink Schlitz Famo freely—it is a worth-while cereal beverage, non-intoxicating, healthful and satisfying. Good and good for you.
